

Additional file 1: An example of functional module discovered from a complex-complex interaction network. There are 13 protein complexes with different sizes involved in the functional module. Some proteins participate in multiple complexes.

